The Office provides a number of legal and advisory services to governmental and semi governmental agencies and individuals, government and private sector companies, establishments, enterprises and individuals from inside and outside the Kingdom, where our team pays great attention and utmost dedication in providing the sound legal work through the serious search the various scientific references and study of laws, legislations and regulations.

The Main Services

First: Legal Consultation:

This filed includes expressing sound and clear legal opinion and verbal and written advice to our valued clients in various legal fields. This work is performed after the thorough reviewing to the relevant supporting documents submitted by the client and the projection of pertinent laws, regulations on the facts in order to extract the appropriate legal opinion within the framework of its compatibility and entire conformity with Sharia and prevailing laws.

Second: Judicial and Legal Representation:

This aspect includes several stages that differ according to the nature of procedure and the degree of the dispute. This can be explained through the following:

1. Reconciliation and mediation stage:

Reconciliation is one of the best and greatest deeds in the sight of Almighty God. Therefore, we initially prefer to adopt reconciliation between the parties to the conflict as our first step in resolving the subject of dispute as long as the possibility is available for finalizing the matter based on the client's desire. To execute this we address the opponent on behalf of the client and the meeting with both parties and bring the points of view more closer to reach a an amicable solution that satisfies both parties as soon as possible and in order to save the judicial costs and other fees that may be incurred by each party.

2. The stage of judicial procedures:

At this stage, our team represents the client before all judicial and quasi-judicial authorities of various types and degrees in all fields and types of lawsuits from filing until the pronouncing of final verdict. In addition, we carry out all litigation, pleading and defense work, attending sessions and submitting notes, objections and appeals as well as all actions required by the case to achieve the client's interest in accordance with Sharia and applicable laws and regulations.

3. Execution Services:

Through execution services, our Law Firm provides the necessary work to take and finalize all actions before the execution courts to asking, following up and accelerating the execution of every document that bears the nature of the executive bond, such as the final verdicts pronounced in the various lawsuits and commercial papers such as checks, bills of exchange, promissory notes, as well as electronic lease contracts.. etc.

4. Legal Representation:

Our Legal Firm provides full legal representation during negotiations, trials, hearings, arbitration, and mediation to our clients before a governmental or semi-governmental circles, in the event that the client wishes to assign the office to finalize a specific legal procedure before one of these authorities, as well as the reliable legal representation before third parties who deal with the client in any business such as negotiating and signing contracts ... etc.

Third: Legal Drafting and Editing:

It is our belief that legal drafting and editing of all types of contracts, agreements, lawsuit statements, memorandums, etc. is of great importance. We are keen on the quality of this work, along with the rest of the work and services, to set the terms and conditions that regulate the contractual relationship between the parties concerned in the manner that preserves the rights and legal positions without ambiguity or vagueness. Many services fall under this category, including, for instance but with no limitation, the following:

- Drafting all types of contracts, agreements, memorandums of understanding and later appendices added to them.
- Editing initiatory pleadings, writ of summons, notes, and regulations for appeals against the verdicts issued and the like.
- Drafting legal letters that the client may need to implement a specific purpose.

Fourth: Arbitration and Mediation:

Our role in the field of arbitration differs based on the nature of arbitration. This includes membership of arbitral tribunals or advocates of our valued clients in arbitration cases. Here we work hard and pay great attention to this sector of services being the safe haven for many commercial categories, especially investors, due to its flexibility in the procedures for considering the cases and the possibility of agreement on special provisions between the parties involved.

Fifth: Real Estate:

The services provided in this sector vary to encompass all services related to real estate. This includes the provision of sophisticated legal service for finalizing all real estate transactions, procedures or direct claims related to real estate ownership or investment, real estate contribution, acquisition, contracting, claims for compensation for expropriation, and grievances for fees white lands in addition to the rest of services in this ever-renewing sector.

Sixth: Civil Transactions:

This sector of services provided by our Law Firm includes everything related to civil, financial and in-kind transactions, such as buying and selling, mortgage, good loan and division of estates, funds and real estate in common as well as all similar transactions and the rights arising from them between individuals, starting from the stage of negotiation, agreement and authentication of these transactions including the necessary contracts and agreements. Our support continues in this aspect to reach judicial representation before the judiciary in the event of any occurrence or cases of disagreement between the parties, if any.

Seventh: Corporate Services and Transactions:

The package of services provided to large, medium and small companies and commercial enterprises varies, starting from the stage of incorporating the company, issuing the Articles of Incorporation, commercial registration (CR) and all documents necessary to carry out the business activity of the company. The Office also provides services to finalize all procedures concerning the conversion of the legal entity of the enterprise from an establishment to a company or from a company to a specific type of company as required by its interest. Added to that, the provision of new services arising out of the continuous development and amendment of laws and regulation in Saudi Arabia. The services provided also extend to include those pertaining to registration of trademarks, franchise contracts, registration of commercial and exclusive agencies, patents and everything that preserves the financial, commercial and intellectual rights of the enterprise.

Eighth: Labor Relations:

The role of our Law Firm is represented in following up the contracts that take place between the enterprise and its personnel, starting with reviewing the terms of the Employment Contracts entered into by and between them, organizing the reliable internal regulations of the enterprise, monitoring the discipline and regulatory procedures applied in accordance with the Labor Law in order to preserve the rights of both parties. It also includes those aspects of legal services related to filing labor lawsuits until the issuance of final verdicts and following up the verdict consequences. addition to the rest of services in this ever-renewing sector.

Ninth: Medical Field:

The service provided in this aspect differs according to the requesters' demand. We sometimes represent an individual or their relatives who are exposed to damages as a result of medical malpractice by a medical service provider committed by a physician or attributed to a faulty medical decision taken by such service provider. Sometimes we represent a medical service provider in cases where administrative decisions are issued in violation of the applicable laws and regulations stipulated the supervisory or regulatory authorities.

Tenth: Insurance Disputes:

Our Office deals with all insurance disputes arising between insureds and enterprises versus the insurers or insurance agencies, whether those parties claim for financial loss or in the event of decline to comply with the insurance coverage according to the contractual obligations related to the provision of medical insurance services.

Eleventh: Banking and Financing Disputes:

It means representing one of our valued clients in the various disputes arising with a bank in connection with banking transactions carried out on bank accounts in violation to the prevailing laws causing damage to the interests of our customers, as well as financing disputes with a bank or financing company authorized to transact this business activity by the Saudi Central Bank (SAMA).

Twelveth: Zakat and Customs Issues Disputes:

The vital focus on this sector has been one of our top priorities to reduce the real burdens on our clients through our great attention to provide an enhanced service. The customs issues represent a major inconvenience to the enterprises relying on the importation of products, especially with regard to issues of customs duties and subjecting goods to categories contrary to their description, as well as cases of customs evasion and the resulting consequences.

Thirteenth: Financial Technology Services (Saudi Fintech):

In this regard, our Law Firm seeks to assist the various enterprises in achieving the objectives of Saudi Arabia aiming at creating financial technology under the supervision of the Saudi Central Bank (SAMA) and the Capital Market Authority (CMA). We provide our reputable clients with the service of preparing the applications and files necessary to obtain the necessary licenses from all competent authorities. Moreover, we provide them with a package of legal advice at all stages, from incorporation to actual performance of business in the markets.

Fourteenth: Support and Logistic Services:

Among our absolute keenness on the interests of our customers, some of works may arise and have to be provided to our customers as a token of support whenever requested by them. For instance, but with limitation, this includes the following:

- Attending General Assembly and Board of Directors meetings on behalf our corporate clients.
- Implementing the administrative structure of the enterprises according to the nature of their business activity and corporate requirements.
- Preparing the Articles of Association for the Joint Stock companies.
- Preparing the corporate governance for the companies subject to this policy.
- Organizing the internal regulations of the enterprise and have them authenticated by the competent authorities.
